CLUE TO MURDERER

Slayer of Young Woman Known to Police.

MRS. MORRIS K. LEWIS

Husband of Woman Says They Did Not Have an Enemy in the World. Assassin a Thief

MOTIVE FOR CRIME UNKNOWN

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The mystery of the brutal murder of Mrs. Morris K. Lewis, a young wife and mother, who was stabbed and thrust into a closet on the lower floor of a house of which she and her 17-months-old child were for the greater part of the day supposed to be the sole occupants, will be solved in a day or two. The police say the murderer cannot escape, that they know who he is and are watching him.

The proprietress of the house, Charlotte Kelly, and a lodger named Harry Somers, the latter a grocery salesman, have been subjected to some severe cross-examination as to their doings.

Just what the motive for the murder was is still unsolved. When it was learned that a suit of clothes had been stolen, it also developed that three rings worn by the dead woman were missing, and instantly the police began working on the theory that robbery had prompted the murder. But later the rings were found in the murdered woman's home, and now it is believed that the murderer in killing his victim became spattered with blood; that he looked around for a new suit, and the first that he found that fitted him were Somers'. He has possibly disposed of his blood-spattered suit, and think that if the suit he stole was found upon him it would incriminate him, he pawned that, and the police have recovered it.

When Mr. Lewis, the murdered woman's husband, was seen it was easy to see that the shock has completely unnerved him and that he is much broken up. Prompted by the police, he refuses to discuss any of the salient features of the case and would make only the following statement:

"This thing is an awful blow to me. Only a day ago I was sitting in the Hotel Ford, Altoona, going over plans to build a home in Tyrone.

"We did not have an enemy in the world that I know of. Why anyone should have done this I cannot imagine. I only wish that baby was a year and a half older. He is a bright youngster and could tell who the murderer was. My wife was above suspicion and no one can say anything about her. I knew her for two years before our marriage and we had been married four years."

Mr. Lewis refused to say who his wife's people in Pittsburg are or to discuss the case as to a motive in any way.

Before the arrival of the husband the detectives had made a thorough search of the house. Upstairs everything was in roder, but on the first floor a tell-tale trail of blood led through the hall from the dining room to the parlor, at the door of which the blood-soaged mat told where the tragedy had culminated.

The position of the woman's body in the little closet in the hall seemed to indicate that life had not been extinct when she was thrust into its depths. Part of the weight of the body was on the feet, but the major portion of the trunk rested on a shelf, the head, with jugular vein sévered with some sharp instrument, which, the detectives say, was a stiletto, and her long dark hair clotted with blood, lay forward on the left arm, as though she had so fallen when too weak to longer stand.

Against the closet door were placed two heavy chairs, dragged from the parlor. One of them had its back caught under the door knob in such a way as to prevent the opening of the door from the inside, and the other was simply placed against it.

In the kitchen were found further evidences of the murderer's guilt. Two bloody towels, one a fine one from a room upstairs, the other a tea towel, picked up in the kitchen, showed that the man had endeavored to wash the stain of guilt from his hands before leaving the house.

And every man, woman and child in Centre county can help to make it the biggest kind of a success by doing what they can. One feature this year which promises to be very interesting will be the young peoples exhibit, and to make it a leader the committee in charge not only request but urges all young people in the county to make or prepare something for this department. You are not confined to any one or two things, just make and bring whatever suits your fancy. It will be properly ticketed and displayed and there is no telling now who will win the prizes offered. HEARST'S NEW PARTY

Independence League organized in New York

NAMED FULL TICKET

Declares Itself Independent of Boss Rule and Corporation Control and of any Party Subject to These.

ADOPT PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES

New York, Sept. 12.—The first two sessions of the Independence League, headed by William Randolph Hearst, were held in this city. Temporary and permanent organizations were perfected, and amid much enthusiasm a lengthy platform setting forth the principles of the league was adopted.

The convention declared positively in favor of the nomination of a full ticket, and instructed the committee on resolutions to formulate a suitable reply to W. J. Connors and other delegates to the Democratic state convention, who presented a memorial asking the Independence League to defer nominating a ticket until a conference could be had with the Democrats.

A feature of the night session was a demonstration following the mention of Mr. Hearst's name, which lasted half an hour. Mr. Hearst did not attend the sessions.

There was much disorder in the convention when a motion to adjourn was made after the routine business had been concluded. Many of the delegates did not want to adjourn and protested, half a hundred or more clamoring for recognition, while just as many cried for adjournment.

The committee on resolutions and platform reported through Clarence J. Shearn, its chairman. Mr. Shearn was cheered as "our next attorney general." The platform sets forth the fundamental idea of the league as independent of boss rule or corporation control and of any party subject to these. It declares for "a free vote and an honest count," and demands "a revision of the present dishonest and complex election law, a simplified ballot and a law providing for a recount in cases of fraud or mistakes."

The recent life insurance scandals are referred to at some length, Governor Higgins is denounced for failure to reorganize the state department, and a new election of insurance companies is favored in case the present officials in the coming elections "maintain control through connivance of the insurance department in underhand and illegal campaigning."

District Attorney Jerome is attacked by name, as follows: "We express the disgust felt by all good citizens over the failure of District Attorney Jerome to prosecute criminally, regardless of their wealth or social position, those guilty of insurance frauds."

On the subject of public ownership the platform says: "The Independence League believes in the public ownership of public utilities that are natural monopolies. Holding that no person or corporation is privileged to confiscate what rightfully belongs to another, it stands for irreconcilable hostility to appropriations by corporations of franchise values created by the community and belonging to the community. Respect for local rights and home rules should authorize the enactment of a statute empowering all cities to acquire and operate public necessities."

In conclusion, the platform says: "Honesty in public service, the rule of the majority, equality before the law, regard for the welfare of the whole people, independence in politics, opportunity in business, freedom of government from the grip of corporation control—these are the principles for which the Independence League is prepared to battle."

New York Sept. 10.—Nine persons badly hurt in wreck on Brooklyn trolley car at Manhattan entrance of bridge.

JUDGE C. A. FAULKNER.

Died at His Home in Philipsburg on Thursday Evening.

Hon. Corliss Allen Faulkner, a former Associate Judge of Centre county, and one of Philipsburg's leading citizens, died at his home in that place on Thursday evening at 5:35 o'clock after a four weeks illness, the result of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Faulkner came from New England stock, having been born in New Hampshire, March 25th 1840, making his age 66 years, 5 months and 12 days. His parents, W. A. and Clarissa Faulkner, the former a native of Massachusetts and the latter of New Hampshire, after spending ten of their earlier wedded life in Erie county, this state, went to Philipsburg in 1857, and were honored residents of that town up until their death. Judge Faulkner's school days were spent in Erie county, where he attended Girard Academy. He also became familiar with the details of the carpenter trade by assisting his father, a business he afterwards followed, in connection with contracting. For some time, also he carried on the hotel business. He served as associate judge of the county from 1892 to 1897. Politically, he was a Democrat, and filled various borough offices. He was also a member of Centre Council, Royal Arcanum, and of the Philipsburg lodge of Odd Fellows. He was a man of quiet and unassuming disposition, but of rare genial qualities, whose friends were legion.

The deceased was married in February, 1877, to Miss Florence Shoop, of Philipsburg, to whom eight children were born, seven of whom are left to mourn his death, viz; Corlis A., Grace, wife of Joseph Barnes. Irvin, Pierre, May, Florence and Pauline. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. B. F. Morgan, of Philipsburg. The funeral occurred Saturday.

Longevity of Indians.

The Government census takers report a number of long-lived people who reside in the Indian Territory and neighboring country. They say that the Indian lives to an older age than any other class of people on earth. Many of them attain the age of 125 years, while a 100-year-old Indian is nothing out of the ordinary. Here are a few of them and some facts about their lives.

White Horse, a medicine chief of the Otoes, who is with the Walter L. Main circus and Colonel Cumins Greater Wild West and will be seen with that exhibition when it comes to town, Friday Sept. 21st, is now 101 years old, and says that he feels as young as when he chased cow-boys and soldiers 50 years ago. To prove his assertions, he is now planning a 1,000 mile trip across the country to visit some of his warrior friends. He is a great medicine man among the Otoes and is their ambassador to the Great Spirit, where he makes frequent trips, according to himself. He also leads in the violent medicine dances and makes medicine the same as he did when a young chief.

A Meeting of the Red Men

At their weekly meeting Monday night the Red Men of this place had a very busy session. It was nomination night, and a large number of Indians were present. Chief of Records Pickle, was kept busy registering the many nominations made for the different chairs, to be filled October 1st. The nominations will close Sept. 17th, and the election will be held Sept. 24th.

Following is a list of the nominees already made: Prophet, Frank Sassaman; Sachem, Joseph Apt, Senior Sagamore, W. H. Hamilton, Alex Morrison; Junior Sagamore, John Cherry, Jas. McSuley, S. S. Walker, Edward Nolan, and Wilbur Baney; Trustee, H. C. Quigley, John Strunk, Samuel Bayard and H. S. Taylor.

Senatorial Conferees of Both Parties Dead-locked.

The Republican and Democratic senatorial conferences are still dead-locked in this district. Both holding sessions at Philipsburg Tuesday.

Quigley and Alexander were at the Republican conference, but could not come together on a nomination, and the conference adjourned until Saturday. Alexander still favors the matter to the State Committee, but to this Quigley is opposed.

With the Democrats the question is just as far from being settled, as neither Heinle, of Centre, nor Dimeling, of Clearfield, is willing to give in. They held three sessions Tuesday. It is likely they will refer the making of a nomination to the Democratic State Committee.

KEEPING EYE ON CUBA

President Watching Development of Revolution.

INTERVENTION FOLLOWS

It Is Officially Stated United States Will Not Interfere Unless Uprising Becomes General

CRUISER READY TO SAIL FOR HAVANA

Washington, Sept. 12.—The critical situation in Cuba is absorbing the attention of the administration to the exclusion of all other foreign topics, as indicated by the activity of the officials in the state, navy and war departments. The president at Oyster Bay is keeping in close touch with every development of the revolutionary movement in Cuba, and is in constant communication by wire with the officials here, who indeed are even in receipt of detailed instructions from him as to what they shall do. The prime object of the administration at present is to get at the facts, which is no easy task, in view of the mass of indefinite statements that emanate from various quarters. Particularly is it desired to know the precise strength of the revolutionary sentiment in Cuba and the relative powers of the government and the insurgents there. Mr. Morgan, the American minister to Havana, is understood to be hastening from Europe, where he has been on vacation, to the Cuban capital, and meanwhile Mr. Sleeper, the secretary of the American legation at Havana, who is acting as charge, is supplying the state department with a daily bulletin containing such facts as he is able to gather there.

So, as stated officially, it is the purpose of the administration to proceed with great deliberation in dealing with the Cuban question, and it was said on the highest authority that there would be no intervention by the United States unless the rebellion assumed the proportions of a general conflagration. It was further stated that there had been no application for intervention from any authorized party, which statement answered an inquiry as to whether any of the foreign governments whose citizens' interests were suffering from the depredation of the Cuban insurgents had called upon the United States government to step in and preserve the peace.

The development of the day was the admission that the American cruiser Des Moines, which sailed hastily from Norfolk, had gone southward to Key West with the ultimate purpose of proceeding to Havana if developments within the next two days seem to warrant such action. At Key West the Des Moines will be about eight hours' run from Havana, and while waiting there Commander Halsey will be in close communication with the navy department, prepared to immediately carry out any request from the department of state. There is no intention in this movement of the Des Moines of showing any partiality by the American government towards one side or the other in the present conflict in Cuba.

It is not expected that a large force would be used in case of intervention, at least not for some time, and not until demonstration of the need of a large force. All of the supply departments of the army have on hand all that is necessary for any force which may be deemed necessary for a first expedition.

To Protect the Public from Gamblers.

Though it will mean the loss of hundreds of dollars in concessions the management of the Great Centre County Fair has decided to exclude all manner of games of chance from the fair grounds this year except the paddle wheels and the Hyronamus game. This means that there will be no spindles, buy back games, knockdowns or games in which the operator offers to double up on the player. The paddle wheels and hyronamus are straight percentage amusement devices which everybody is familiar with.

This action on the part of the fair management is one that the public should commend most heartily as it is not only voluntarily cutting off a large source of revenue but a great many of its patrons are actually in favor of having small games of chance. The experiment was tried partially last year and worked so satisfactorily that it has been decided to cut out everything but the wheels for the coming fair.

CENTRE COUNTY VETERANS.

Annual Re-Union at Hunter's Park—The Money for Monument all Paid in.

The 32nd annual basket picnic of the Centre County Veteran Club was held at Hunter's Park Saturday September 8th and was attended by over 1500 people. It was an ideal day for an outing in the woods and every one enjoyed themselves immensely.

Meetings were held both in the morning and afternoon. At the afternoon session the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President—General James A. Beaver.
Vice president—Capt. W. C. Patterson and Capt. W. H. Fry.
Secretary—W. H. Musser.
Assistant Secretary—S. B. Miller.
Treasurer—Capt. Geo. M. Boal.

They will hold their meeting next year at Grange Park, Centre Hall.

General Beaver presided at both meetings and he announced that the last of the $35,000 required to pay for the Soldier's and Sailor's Monument had been paid into the treasury.

Capt. Charles A. Barclay of Sinnemahoning, Republican candidate for congress from this district was present and made a very pleasing address. He is a pleasant and affable gentleman and made an excellent impression. Other speakers were Rev. J. B. Stein, pastor of the Methodist church, Bellefonte; Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Bellefonte, Capt. Greer, Capt. W. T. Michaels, Senator W. C. Heinle.

There was a base ball game to hold the attention of the young people. It was between Fillmore and State College. State won by the score of 11 to 9.

The State College band furnished the music for the day.

Latest in Trusts is Fire Brick Combine.

Sixty-three independent fire brick manufacturers, representing and including the largest individual manufacturers in this country met in Pittsburg this week.

While no definite program had been decided upon, it is believed that the result of the meeting was the organization of the largest fire brick corporation in the world, with a capitalization of $25,000,000, an aggregation of about 120 separate plants located in all sections of the country, and a daily production capacity of more than 2,000,000 bricks.

The only other fire brick corporation in the country is the Harbison-Walker Refractories company, which has a capitalization of about $28,000,000 and a bond issue of $2,500,000. The capacity of the Harbison-Walker company is about 1,100,000 bricks daily.

Propositions were made to the Queens Run Fire Brick company of Lock Haven the Pennsylvania Fire Brick company of Beech Creek and the West Branch Fire Brick company of Drurys Run for options on their plants, but the two former we understand declined to sign any agreement.

Thorn in Her Foot Causes Death.

As the result of running a thorn into her foot, Mrs. Jane Austin, who inherited some of the millions of old John McCafferty of Chicago is dying at her home in McKeesport of blood poisoning.

Mrs. Austin was a washerwoman. Her husband has been dead for years, and she had supported herself and mother for a number of years. When the hard times came on in 1893-94, she struggled against sickness of herself and her old mother. Finally it reached the point where there was neither food nor fuel in the house.

That dark day a stranger, a Chicago attorney, appeared at the Austin home and announced he had been searching for her for months. He informed her that her father, who had disappeared 40 years before and was supposed to have drowned in a storm on Chesapeake Bay, had just died in Chicago, leaving $1,500,000 to her and two sisters.

Notwithstanding her wealth, Mrs. Austin has continued to live in a modest little house, and never lost her head over her wealth.

Wreck at Snow Shoe Intersection.

Wednesday evening a freight on the Bald Eagle Valley going west collided with the Snow Shoe freight at the Intersection, above Milesburg. It was a head on collision and a bad one. Both engines were smashed, 17 cars were derailed, 10 cars smashed and traffic suspended, but fortunately no one was injured but Herb Cheany, conductor of the Snow Shoe freight landed under the wreckage, but crawled out uninjured. The airbrakes on the valley freight failed to work and caused the trouble.

CALLS BRYAN DICTATOR

Roger Sullivan Flays Nebraskan in Lengthy Statement.

QUESTIONS HIS TRUTHFULNESS

Declares Bryan Runs For President to Swell the Gate Receipts at His Lectures and Makes Money Out of Politics.

New York, Sept. 8.—Roger C. Sullivan, member from Illinois of the Democratic national committee, issued a lengthy statement, in which he replied to the recent attacks made upon him by Mr. Bryan. The following is an abstract of Mr. Sullivan's remarks:

"In his Jefferson club banquet speech at Chicago William J. Bryan again saw fit to make me the excuse for exploiting his new ambition to convert the Democratic party in the United States into an autocracy, with himself on the dictator's throne. I regret that he has done so, as I would regret any incident or circumstance tending toward discord in the Democratic party.

"If portions of Mr. Bryan's speech mean anything, they mean that he would rather have his own way than have Democrats elected to congress or any other office. He has invited all Illinois Democrats who agree with him in his opposition to me to bolt their ticket. If there are any Democrats in Illinois who are disposed to act on this Bryanesque advice most of them, unfortunately, will be found in congressional districts which are close, but in which with united effort, we have a good chance to elect Democratic congressmen. If these districts send Republicans to the next national house of representatives, the Democratic party of Illinois will have Mr. Bryan to thank. As a Democrat I regret that Mr. Bryan's rule-or-ruin disposition has led him to make such misuse of his influence.

Challenges Bryan's Truthfulness.

"But in so far as Mr. Bryan's banquet speech applies to me personally, to my character, to my business, to my associates, to my Democracy and to my political acts, I welcome the issues, and on that issue I challenge Mr. Bryan to the proof of his truthfulness, his honesty and his sincerity—that sincerity which, he boasts, is his political asset.

"The very first paragraph in Mr. Bryan's speech on me and on the Illinois situation contains a deliberate untruth. Practically every succeeding paragraph contains either a deliberate untruth or an equivocation of the kind that we expect only from the shifty, word-juggling pettifogger. Mr. Bryan says he wrote me a letter asking me to 'resign in the interests of the Democratic party.' That is not true. Mr. Bryan knew it was not true when he said it. He never wrote me a letter. He did write a letter to Judge O. P. Thompson, in which he told Judge Thompson to tell me that he, Bryan, wanted me to resign from the Democratic national committee.

Says He Is In Politics For Money.

"Mr. Bryan says: 'My political asset is the confidence the people have in my sincerity.' Mr. Bryan has twice led the Democratic party to defeat, the second a worse defeat than the first. If he is proud of that evidence of the people's confidence in his sincerity he is welcome to it. But his boast of sincerity merits further consideration. He insinuates that I make money out of politics, and that his sincerity therefore compels him to oppose my participation in Democratic affairs. The plain inference is that Mr. Bryan thinks it wrong to make money out of politics. This boast of his puts the stamp of insincerity all over him. If Mr. Bryan thinks it wrong to make money out of politics, he should quit making money. Mr. Bryan has not one dollar that he ever made out of anything but politics. He tried to be a lawyer; he was a failure at it. He tried to be a newspaper editor; he was a failure at that.

Compares Bryan to Divorced Actress.

"He is now a man of property. As fortunes go, he is a rich man. He made every dollar of his fortune out of politics as a stepping stone to the lecture platform. Mr. Bryan discovered many years ago that he could make his political prominence pay. He is a shrewd advertiser and in his way a clever business man. He has discovered that so long as he is a candidate for president and a possible nominee, gifted with the ability to weave flowing sentences into well rounded periods, the public will come to hear him at so much a head. He is in politics because it helps the gate receipts. Like the actresses who have discarded the stolen diamond dodge for the greater publicity of a divorce suit, Mr. Bryan will quit running for president and will quit politics just as soon as he discovers that some other form of advertising will bring more dollars to the box office when he is announced to appear on the stage.

Issues Challenge to Bryan.

"To test Mr. Bryan's boasted sincerity a little, I challenge him to this: If I hold my position on the Democratic national committee by fraud, I ought to resign. If Mr. Bryan has falsely accused me of profiting by fraud, then he ought to quit running for president; because no man is fit to be a candidate for that high office who goes out in public and lies about any member of his party. Therefore, I propose that Mr. Bryan put the issue as between us up to the men who sat as delegates in the Springfield convention of two years ago. Those delegates are still living in Illinois; they can all be found. Mr. Bryan said that a majority of them were opposed to me for national committeeman; he has said that he had at St. Louis letters from more than half those delegates, in which they repudiated the action of the convention which resulted in my becoming national committeeman. Let us poll those delegates. Let us have this poll made under the direction of the chief justice of the supreme court of Illinois. If the majority of those delegates will support Mr. Bryan's present contention and will say that I was elected to the national committee by fraud, then I will resign from the national committee. On the other hand—and this I contend is but a fair proposition—if the majority of those delegates of two years ago do not support Mr. Bryan's allegation of fraud, then I will insist that Mr. Bryan shall announce that he will no longer be a candidate for the presidency at the hands of the Democratic party. The American people believe in fair play. Call the roll."

GRADE CROSSING HORROR

Three Killed and Twenty Injured When Train Hit Trolley Car.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—Three men were killed and a score of others injured in a grade crossing accident at 25th street and Passyunk avenue, near the Atlantic Refining company's plant. A trolley car containing about 50 passengers, all men returning from work at the oil refinery, was struck by a train of empty tank cars on the Pennsylvania railroad. Owen Sweeney, aged 25 years, was ground to pieces under the wheels of a tank car, and Julius Bewar, aged 60, and an unknown man died later at a hospital. Twenty others were conveyed to various hospitals, but none of these is believed to be seriously injured.

A shifting engine was backing the train, and the motorman of the trolley car thought he could cross the railroad tracks before the tank cars reached the point. The last tank car struck the trolley car full in the side, overturning it and forcing it 15 feet along the railroad track.

PARBOILED IN HOT WATER

Detroit Laborer Met Horrible Death By Falling Into Pit.

Detroit, Sept. 7.—John Mielke, laborer at the plant of the Railway Steel company, is dead, after having been parboiled in a pit of hot water. Mielke's shoes had become greasy from walking about the engine room, and as he was passing the pit which received the boiling water from the cylinder of the engine he slipped and fell headlong into the scalding liquid. He was entirely immersed, being practically parboiled from head to foot, and for five hours suffered most intense agony until death brought relief.

HOMEOPATHS IN SESSION

Distinguished Medical Men Attend Congress in Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Distinguished medical men, physicians, surgeons, educators and specialists of this and many other countries, are attending the seventh quinquennial International Homeopathic Congress, which meets here in conjunction with the American Institute of Homeopathy. The sessions of the congress will be held in the ball room of Young's iron pier, Dr. W. E. Green, of Little Rock, president of the American Institute, presiding. Daily sectional meetings will be held until the convention adjourns next Saturday.

According to the program, "the essays and discussions will cover those departments of medical sciences and practice with which a knowledge of drug pathogenesy and homeopathic therapeutics is especially identified, and such other subjects as may be related to the further development of a sound and reliable materia medica, the promulgation of the truths and the general and special progress of homeopathy."

L. B. COOK FATALLY STABBED

Was in Company of a Woman, When Her Husband Attacked Him.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—Lawrence B. Cook, member of the Pennsylvania legislature from the Fourth district, who was renominated by the Republican party, was perhaps fatally stabbed by Andrew MacMillan, a justice of the peace, and one of the wealthiest residents of Carnegie. Cook, who became famous during the last legislature for being the author of the Greater Pittsburg bill, is alleged to have been celebrating his renomination. He met a woman said to be Mrs. MacMillan, and the two went to a house in Lawn street. While they were in the room MacMillan burst open the door and engaged in a struggle with Cook. During the battle Cook was stabbed a number of times and is now in a critical condition in the Mercy hospital, while MacMillan is in the Oakland police station, held without bail.

Hipple, principally through heavy loans made to Adolph Segal, a promoter, on flimsy collateral, have agreed to Receiver Earle's plan for reorganizing the company. Mr. Earle received a telegram from Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the only member of the board of directors who is away from the city, agreeing to the proposition that the directors contribute the amount deemed necessary by the receiver. Dr. Mitchell expresses his willingness to bear his portion of the burden. The other directors had previously assented to the plan.

Receiver Earle spent Sunday at his home in Bryn Mawr working on the details of his proposition, which he hopes to be able to present to the directors very soon. He also expects to call a general meeting of stockholders and depositors in order to thoroughly acquaint them with his purpose.

"It is slow work," he said. "I am not in a position at present to say anything more definite than has already been published concerning my proposition, but I wish it understood that the directors in signing the agreement have pledged themselves to raise the amount which I consider necessary. This money is given absolutely, without promise of return or security. They are putting up the money from their own pockets so as to make up the losses which have been sustained through the bad Segal loans."

The loans made to Segal by President Hipple aggregate more than $5,000,000 and his securities are believed to be worth about $2,000,000. Consequently the directors will subscribe something more than $3,000,000. It was stated that some of the Segal securities, which are considered of little value, would be given the directors for the money advanced by them. Receiver Earle denied this.

Mr. Earle was emphatic in his denial of the published statements that he had suggested certain men for the office of president of the reorganized company.

"I have never suggested anyone," he declared. "That is neither my province nor business. Every man who has force enough to be president must have some enemies, and if his name is connected with the plan it would invite their hostility. The stockholders should have their own will in this matter."

A statement issued by Rev. Dr. Roberts, stated clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, announces that in addition to the $30,000 of the trust funds of the trustees of the church which were lost in the collapse, deposits amounting to about $130,000 are also involved. These deposits were the current funds of the board of ministerial relief, the trustees of the board of publication and Sabbath-school work, the trustees of the general assembly, the stated clerk of the general assembly and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

A note which is regarded with suspicion by District Attorney Bell and Receiver Earle has been found among the papers of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company. It is for $77,000 and bears the signature of Joseph A. Baker, who has been dead three years. The loan is secured by $120,000 in first preferred 6 per cent. bonds of the Champion Iron and Separator company, one of Adolf Segal's many enterprises.

Baker, whose name is signed to the note, was in the real estate business at the same time that Segal conducted a brokerage business. The two were close friends. The district attorney's investigation of the note up to the present time has resulted in nothing tangible. Members of Baker's family professed entire ignorance regarding it, saying they were unaware that he had ever given President Hipple his note for any amount. In fact, they did not believe Baker was acquainted with Hipple. In view of the fact that similar notes for large amounts secured by worthless collateral and signed apparently by fictitious persons have been found, Mr. Bell and Receiver Earle express the fear that this note may be another evidence of Hipple's wildcat financiering.

Bank Officer Kills Himself.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Arthur R. Keefe, receiving teller for the Security Trust company, committed suicide at his home here by drinking cyanide of potassium. He lived but a few moments after taking the poison. Mr. Keefe was short in his accounts at the banking house, and it is believed that the fear of arrest and the disgrace attending such action prompted him to commit the deed. Officials of the bank state that Keefe was under bonds in the sum of $10,000 and that his irregularities will be within this sum. The institution will lose nothing.

Race Horse Sold For $30,000.

New York, Sept. 8.—The horse Electioneer, winner of the Futurity, was sold by William Lakeland for $30,000. The bill of sale was made out to Curtis Van Ness, who is believed to have acted for a Philadelphia man, said to be J. E. Widener.

CRIMINAL EVIDENCE FOUND

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—District Attorney Bell, after an investigation of the affairs of the Real Estate Trust company, which failed last week, established direct evidence of criminality, with more than one person responsible. Arrests are now absolutely certain, and it is known that the suspected persons have been placed under surveillance."

"The deposits have been swept away," said Mr. Bell. "They have been looted. My investigation shows that more than one person is implicated. There will be arrests, but how soon I have not decided. I interrogated Directors Junkin, Houston, Benson and Porter and a number of under officials of the trust company. I secured much evidence from them. I shall continue my investigation and will examine Treasurer North and Assistant Treasurer Collingwood. I have found no evidence that the trust funds were tampered with beyond the $50,000 already reported, but I have not concluded my investigation of this department."

That it is the intention of the depositors to place the burden of responsibility for the failure of the bank upon the shoulders of the directors has become known. Counsel representing $500,000 of deposits declared they were in a position to prove the liability of the directors. They propose, in the event of the directors being unable to evolve a satisfactory plan for the reorganization of the company, to adopt measures which shall insure some benefits to the depositors.

A marked change of front was manifested in the attitude of members of the board of directors toward reimbursing the depositors of the concern. Heretofore it had been declared that the directors stood ready and willing to advance any amount of money to readjust the affairs of the company, and thus rid themselves of the stigma of moral or criminal negligence in allowing the president to wreck the company.

John H. Converse, one of the directors, denied this statement. He said: "I stand ready and eager to pay my proportion of the losses, but this proportion will be entirely based on my holdings of the company's stock. This I shall pay, and nothing more."

District Attorney Bell is also making a rigid investigation into the work of the executive committee of the board of directors of the trust company. It is conceded that had the executive committee checked up the contents of the company's vaults the directors would not now be able to say that they neither knew nor had ever heard of the fact.

Bank Cashier Turns Railroader.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 10.—W. A. Jones, cashier of the Hope Mills bank, a branch of the bank of Fayetteville, N. C., who disappeared 10 days ago, was located at Crewe, Va., where he had taken a position in the dispatcher's office of the Norfolk & Western railway. The news came in a message to his father, all previous efforts to locate him having proven futile. His accounts are found to be straight, and no cause is known for his strange action.

Five Scalded By Bursting of Pipe.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 10.—Five men were severely scalded by the bursting of a steam pipe in the engine room of the Atlas Portland Cement company's old mill at North Coplay. Oswin Herb is not expected to recover.

Leaned Too Far From Trolley Car.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 10.—L. L. Malindy, an attache of the State Hospital for the Insane, while riding on a trolley car on State street was struck and killed by a car passing on a parallel track. Malindy was leaning out of the car in which he was a passenger when struck at a point where the tracks are close together.

Doctor Drowned on Charity Visit.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 14.—Dr. Daniel F. Ellis, member of the faculty and college physician of the Randolph-Macon college at Ashland, Va., was drowned in Stagg creek, four miles from there, while on his way to pay a charity visit to an old negro patient. High water swept his buggy down the stream. The doctor's 5-year-old son was with him, but was saved by his father placing him in an overhanging tree.

Attempted Bribery Charged.

Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 14.—John Pishotto, an Italian fruit dealer, who, it is said, is wanted in Cleveland for attempted jury bribing, was arrested here and is held to await requisition papers. Pishotto's brother, it is alleged, killed a man in Cleveland, and in order to save him from the penitentiary Pishotto tried to bribe a juror. He was released on $3000 bail at a preliminary hearing, and a few days later jumped his bail.

Workmen Drowned In Texas Flood.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 14.—Another flood swept down through the canyons upon Langtry. A gang of workmen were caught unawares, and two are known to have perished. Nine bridges of the Southern Pacific railway have been swept away, and 26 miles of track is inundated. The sudden freshet will rapidly subside as rain has ceased to fall.

The Reign of Reason.

Although the son of the house had seen something of life, he was impressed by the fine raiment and languid grace of the summer boarder at Willowbrook Farm. But his father had seen more of life.

"I had thought she was some older than she says," remarked the son meditatively one rainy morning as he and his father were at work rubbing up harnesses.

"How old does she allow she is?" inquired the owner of Willowbrook Farm, no name being mentioned.

"Well last night as we sat on the porch," said the young man, with a dreamy, reminiscent air, "she said she wished I could see 'spring steal over 'he land' down in the Evangeline country She said, 'I've seen it nine times; I have never missed it since I was a girl still in my teens."

"Well," said the father, after a quick glance at the unconscious face opposite his own, "how old do you make her by that?"

"She can't be more'n twenty-eight at that rate," said the young man, his eyes apparently fixed on a pitchfork.

"I guess you haven't considered how backward some springs are," remarked his father, dryly, after a short pause, "and how there's some of 'em that don't do any 'stealing to speak of, on account of being behindhand.

"I'm a-going to let you be the one to go down to the village for the mail the rest o' these summer evenings. The ride will kind of air you out—and there isn't going to be much more moon for one spell, now she's quartering in this rain."

AZTEC ARCHITECTURE.

Wonderful Endurance of the Old Mexican Buildings.

The Mexicans or the Aztec Indians can give the people of the United States lessons in architecture and in solid construction of buildings. There are buildings standing today in the City of Mexico that have stood for three centuries and are in an excellent state of preservation. There is not a frame building in the city. There are a few adobe, but most all are stone, brick or cement. There is a brick building down in the old part of the town that was erected prior to 1450.

It shows that so long ago as that the Indians were experts in the manufacture of bricks. But probably 80 per cent of all the buildings are made of concrete cement. Cement and concrete have been used successfully in Mexico for 500 years, and all the cathedrals and churches are of that material. On the line of the Vera Cruz Pacific can be seen the ruins of Toro Bravo, where there are evidences of a city ruined centuries ago. There are some twenty pyramids of solid cement which must have been erected over 500 years ago. One of these pyramids is 170 feet in height, and on the summit rests a cement ledge thirty feet in diameter. This, as well as others, is of filigree work and carved statuary.

Near this stands another of white limestone, built in four terraces, with carvings and ornamentations which would put to shame the modern American sculptor. It has stood all these centuries, yet the limestone is much easier broken than the cement. Think of a town of almost 400,000 persons, and the fire record is three in one year. The inside walls of many of the buildings are as much as six feet through, and all buildings are built around courts. There is no provision in any of them for fires, and at the present time small coal oil stoves are selling in the city for $20—the same that sell for $3 in the states. The floors are of stone, the ceilings of filigree cement, the walls of coarse plaster and almost without exception hand painted. The architecture on many buildings in the republic shows that the Indian of centuries ago was ahead of the modern builder of today.—Hobart News-Republican.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Don't save your money and starve your mind.

Vigorous thought must come from a fresh brain.

Tens of thousands of people fail because they love their ease too much.

"Keeping alive that spirit of youth," Stevenson used to say, was "the perennial spring of all the mental faculties."

A man may build a palace, but he can never make of it a home. The spirituality and love of a woman alone can accomplish this.

If we are contented to unfold the life within according to the pattern given us we shall reach the highest end of which we are capable.

By proper training the depressing emotions can be practically eliminated from life and the good emotions rendered permanently dominant.

Every time you crowd into the memory what you do not expect it to retain you weaken its powers and you lose your authority to command its services.—Success.

John Wesley and Beau Nash.

In a book about Bath is set forth a story about John Wesley. Beau Nash had told Wesley that his preaching in the street was not only contrary to law, but it "frightened people out of their wits."

"Sir," said Wesley, "did you ever hear me preach?"

"No," said the master of ceremonies.

"How then can you judge of what you never heard?"

"By common report," said Nash stoutly.

"Common report is not enough. Give me leave, sir, to ask, is not your name Nash?"

"My name is Nash."

"Sir," said Wesley, "I dare not judge of you by common report."

Foods That Make You Fat.

Potatoes, peas, baked beans, fats, sweets—such as puddings, pies and cake—ale, beer, sweet wines and even water, when taken with meals, all conduce to obesity. But in lieu of the foregoing flesh producers one may satisfy hunger with a moderate amount of lean meats, poultry, fish; with fruits (excepting figs, dates and bananas) and with vegetables, such as spinach, string beans, eggplant, celery, beets, etc. I would recommend also that those overfat from a too rich and too generous diet abstain from much liquid at meals, but that they drink copiously of water between meals to flush their systems. Water, be it remembered, is an excellent purgative.—G. Elliot Flint in Outing.

Fatal Fight Over Two Cents.

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 4.—In a fight among Italians at Boswell, a mining town in Somerset county, four men were seriously injured, two fatally. The trouble started as the result of a dispute over two cents that one man claimed to have won in a poker game. All four men are under arrest.

REFRIGERATOR RULES.

Use clean, flat dishes to hold whatever is on the lower shelves.

Buy your ice in pieces as large as can be accommodated. This is much more economical than to buy small ones.

Be careful not to fill dishes too full so that they will spill over. If anything is spilled, don't fail to wipe it up immediately.

Pack the ice well together and do not wrap it in paper or cloths; instead, keep the door of the ice chamber shut as much as possible.

Do not put food of any sort directly on the ice. If it is absolutely necessary to place it near the ice, see that it is in glass or porcelain.

Empty the refrigerator at least once a week; scrub the interior thoroughly, then scald the ice chamber and drainpipe with boiling water, in which a lump of soda has been dissolved; follow this with clear boiling water; wipe dry and let it air for twenty minutes.

Great Men's Childhood.

"Many great men," said a psychologist, "gave signs of greatness even in their childhood. Mozart at the age of five composed a piece of music so difficult that his father, a professional musician, had some trouble in playing it.

"Macaulay before he was eight wrote the 'Compendium of Universal History, Being an Account of the Leading Events From the Creation Down to the Present Century.'

"Hartley at seven wrote a long and abstruse essay on the 'Nature of Man.' Bacon at nine finished a work on philosophy. Milton at twelve wrote two epics.

"On the other hand, Goethe, Steele, Dr. Johnson, Wagner, Voltaire, Tennyson, Poe and Fenimore Cooper were deemed stupid in their childhood."

Bitter Jerrold.

Among the sayings attributed to Douglas Jerroid is a very bitter one he applied to Mark Lemon, then editor of Punch. Lemon was deeply attached to Dickens and showed it in a very open fashion, which perhaps aroused the great satirist's jealousy. At all events, as Jerrold was walking out one day with Lemon and another friend, and Dickens with several more behind them, Lemon suddenly dropped away and turned back. "What has become of Punch?" asked Jerrold's companion. "Did you hear Dickens whistle?" was the cynical reply. "Dickens pays the dog tax for Lemon."

Liberty, Equality, Fraternity.

The French philosopher M. Le Bon, commenting on the motto of the revolution, "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity," declared that the real difference between the French and the British lay in the fact that the French were enamored of equality and cared little for liberty, while the British insisted on liberty and never gave a thought to equality. And when some one quoted this to Rudyard Kipling he instantly added his own comment to the effect that what the American really preferred was fraternity. "He is a good fellow himself, and he expects you to be one."

Hicks for September.

Rev. Hicks, who successfully predicted the weather for August, makes the following predictions for September:

A regular storm period will be central on the 1st, extending to the 4th. The month will come in with high temperature, low barometer and storms. The climax will come on the 2nd but the period may not come to a close until the 5th. A reactionary storm period will be central on the 7th and 8th, and this will cause storms which originate in the first period to be continued into the second. If a barometer follows any the September storms, frost will likely appear in the north. If not, high temperature will prevail until after the Autumnal Equinox. A regular storm period covers the 10th to the 15th. Look for high temperature, low barometer, the threatening storm clouds and severe thunder storms. Very likely high barometer and cooler will follow. A reactionary storm period is central on the 17th, 18th and 19th. This period will bring the earth to the Autumnal Equinox. Storms will begin to show the demarkation between summer and autumn. This period will be marked by thunder storms, tornadoes and hurricanes, and some seismic disturbances. A regular storm period runs from the 22nd to the 26th. From the 23rd to the 26th is the time of maximum storm probability. There will be a mingling of tropical with boreal conditions. The month will close with a reactionary period on the 29th and 30th causing a change to general storm conditions as the month goes out.

The Girl Who Makes Friends,

The girl who makes friends wherever she goes is delightful. She comes into a room like a sea breeze, fresh, laughing, nodding right and left with happy impartiality. She is ready for anything, and never throws cold water on your plans. She generally sees the funny side of things, and she has such a whole-hearted way of describing them that you feel as if you had seen them yourself. She does not retail gossip, though, and she does not know how to be spiteful, or sarcastic, or bitter, and she never exaggerates to produce an impression. She knows how to be clever and funny without being unkind, or untruthful, or coarse. She likes everybody, not considering it is her duty to suspect anyone of evil until they have been proved good. She prefers to consider the world good and honest until it proves itself otherwise. She always gets along, for she has friends everywhere. Her heart is big enough to contain everybody, and she never forgets her friends, or is forgotten by them.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

The Emery boom is on the wane.

CAPTAIN BARCLAY, our candidate for Congress, seems to be growing in public favor and as the campaign progresses he will grow stronger. Captain Barclay makes a good impression wherever he goes and he will come out of the fight with a handsome majority.

The writer heard Col. Taylor remark to the Ferguson township statesman, Aleck Archey, that "he was in it to win". Now we suppose the Colonel referred to his candidacy for congress. Hughey is a good fellow all right but he has about as much chance of going to congress as the proverbial snow ball has of going through "hades" without melting. There is a lot of democrats just waiting for an opportunity to put the cleaner to the gay and festive Colonel. Of course Aleck swore allegiance on the spot and promised him Ferguson township all right.

If you want to see something strange at any time cast your optics westward. One of the wild and woolly editors of Kansas gives out this yawp: "Times are too good. The men and women who used to work have branched out into business careers of their own, or take life easy in their own homes, while other members of the family, getting increased wages, provide all the necessities and some of the luxuries. These things came formerly only by hard work and the combined efforts of all. There are places in Lawrence (Kas.) where the proprietors have thought seriously of going out of business simply because they cannot get the required assistance to carry on the work that is absolutely necessary. There is something wrong in all things." We admire that editor who can growl because the times are too good. He is what John Bull would call a "run one." Perhaps he is a Mark Tapley, and feels best when misfortune surrounds him. But he may be a farmer and can't get hands for a great corn crop.

WIDELY DIFFERENT.

There are two kinds of Republicans—the honest, faithful worker for the cause, hnd the bogus "reformer" who is always endeavoring to bring about Republican defeat. There are numerous examples at hand The Philadelphia Inquirer, for instance, presents a comparison of the two classes. It points to the fact that Uncle Joe Cannon is in the state of Maine working like a beaver to save a Congressional district or two that is assailed by the foes of President Roosevelt.

While Cannon is doing his best to support the Roosevelt administration, one Lewis Emery, Jr., is stumping Pennsylvania in the hope of smashing the Republican party upon which the President must rely for indorsement and help.

The Democratic leaders who dominated Emery on a Bryan platform have in person promised Bryan that the Emery movement will hand over to Democracy eight Congressional districts in this state.

Do you stand with Roosevelt or with Emery?

BRYAN IS A MONEY MAKER.

Mr. Bryan has no cause to compain During his year's absence he made on an average $1,000 per week writing for a press syndicate, and he expects $25,000 more for royalties on his book. This would give him $75,000 for his journey, the total expenses of which did not exceed $10,000. Mr. Bryan knows how to make money, and he knows the value of newspaper advertising. Running for the Presidency is more profitable to him than the office would be even if he should be elected thereto. Mr. Bryan is foxy, and no one will find fault with him for making all the money he can! That is his business, and he is putting it to the best possible use.

Pastor Ill; Preaches Sermon then Dies

"Though far from being well and strong, Dr. Owen James, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will undertake to occupy his pulpit tomorrow morning and evening." read an announcement in the Johnstown papers of Saturday.

Dr. James, one of the best known ministers of Pennsylvania, undertook to carry out the program of services. Those who attended worship in the morning saw the minister was far from being well, but they say that they never heard a more fervent prayer nor a more powerful sermon.

A few minutes after leaving his church Dr. James was seen to reel on the sidewalk and fall. He was taken into a nearby house, where he died.

Heart disease was the cause. Dr. James was about 60 years old, and had been a minister for thirty-five years. He was high in the councils of the church, and was usually a ministerial delegate to the large state and national gatherings of the Baptists.

REFORMERS NO MORE

Men Who Wanted Berry Elected to "Lift the Lid" Now Under Cover.

JAIL GATES AJAR FOR SOME

Emery Gubernatorial Movement Loses Some "Heavy Contributors" and Hot Campaign Orators.

[Special Correspondence.]
Philadelphia, September 11.

A severe blow was given to the men engaged in the campaign of false pretense which has been waged against the Republican party in Pennsylvania for the last few years by the revelations growing out of the disastrous failure of the Real Estate Trust company of this city.

It has developed that some of the heaviest contributors to the campaign funds that have been used to defeat Republican nominees and to promote the so-called cause of "civic righteousness" have been criminally responsible for the failure of this trust company, some of them have actually looted the institution, and there is reason to believe that part of the funds belonging to the depositors which were thus stolen were turned over as subscriptions to the Lincoln and the City Party treasurers.

During the recent political revolution in this city, members of the board of directors of this trust company were the most blatant orators among the "reformers."

They misrepresented the condition of the state treasury and would have every one believe that the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the city of Philadelphia were being robbed right and left, that the taxpayers' money was being squandered, and that "the lid" must be lifted at Harrisburg so that all the rascality which they alleged existed in the management of the state treasury could be exposed forthwith.

And Berry "Lifted the Lid."

They demanded the election of William H. Berry, a Democrat, to the state treasury, just as prior to the closing of the trust company, they were insisting upon the election of Lewis Emery, Jr., to the governorship, along with his three Bryanite Democratic colleagues, who make up the state ticket.

These "reform" leaders believed that they could continue to fool the people despite the fact that Berry was elected state treasurer and Berry had "lifted the lid" at Harrisburg.

In the lifting of "the lid" Berry showed that the so-called reformers lied when they said the state treasury had been mismanaged and that the funds of the people had not been safeguarded under Republican rule.

Berry has been in office since the first Monday in May last, and his official reports as to what he discovered regarding the finances of the state are the best testimonials that can be presented regarding the Republican administration of the affairs of the state treasury.

When Mr. Berry took the oath of office he receipted for the money in the treasury and he made public the fact that he found on hand $14,000,000.

Every penny of the people's money was found and accounted for in the state treasury, and Berry and his co-campaigners in the recent political battles in this state have been silenced upon that issue.

At no time within the history of the commonwealth have the finances of the state been in such good shape. At the end of the fiscal year, November 30, 1905, there was a balance in the sinking fund of $3,600,575.60, and in the general fund $8,927,950.79, making a total of $12,528,526.39. The total outstanding indebtedness on that date was $4,131,867.02. Deducting from this the assets of the sinking fund, the net state debt is found to be $122,958.09, considerably less than two cents per capita.

No other state in the union can make such a splendid showing.

But the Real Estate Trust company's directors, who so loudly demanded the election of Berry as state treasurer and who, until the crash came, were just as insistent upon the election of Emery to the governorship, have been removed from the political arena.

One of them, the president of the company, a pronounced Lincoln party man, blew out his brains when he found that discovery of his hypocrisy and iniquity was inevitable.

Others of his board of directors have been summoned to reveal the details of a damnable conspiracy through which the trust company was looted of over $7,000,000.

Some of them may yet find themselves before the criminal courts to answer to an enraged people.

John H. Converse, upon whose name so many depositors banked so largely, owing to his connections with religious and reform organizations, has disclaimed any knowledge of the criminal conduct of officials of the trust company. He has not, however, succeeded in satisfying the people who lost their money that he was loyal to their interests. Instead of protecting their deposits, he was engaged in promoting so-called reform campaigns, espousing the cause of men like Berry and Emery, serving on the "advisory board" of Mayor Weaver, sending big checks to the City Party campaign fund, attending their meetings, denouncing public officials and invariably making Republicans the objects of his attacks.

Another of these directors of this trust company, J. Bayard Henry, has been a conspicuous member of the Lincoln party. He was proposed for the nomination of lieutenant governor, but when the Democrats demanded this place he was slated for the Lincoln Party nomination for the state senate. It is needless to say that Mr. Henry will not run for state senator this year.

When the sensational charges were being made against Republican officials, there was none more vicious, none more vindictive among the Lincoln Party leaders than Mr. Henry He demanded the election of Berry and was to have taken the stump for Emery, but he and other members of his board of directors will be missed from the list of Emery spellbinders.

Stuart Meets the Issue.

The speech of Edwin S. Stuart, the Republican nominee for governor, at the meeting in Lehigh county on Saturday last, in which he demanded that greater protection shall be given depositors in banks and trust companies, has been widely and favorably commented upon. He declared that in the event of his election to the governorship he will urge the legislature to revise the state bank laws, to increase the number of examiners so that there shall be more frequent and thorough investigations of the condition of banking institutions, and that in order that this shall not be an additional burden upon the general taxpayers, he advocated a special tax upon the capital of such banking institutions, to meet the expense of these additional examiners and examinations.

Making it Hot for Law Violators.

Game Warden H. E. Hommelsbaugh, with headquarters at Clearfield, is getting after the fellows who hunt and fish out of season, and making it rather hot for such persons.

Sunday morning he arrested in Clinton county, near Renova, James Parker, a non-resident, for hunting and shooting on Sunday. Parker was fined fifty dollars. James Waterhouse was also arrested on the same charge and fined $25.

About a week before Clark Paul was taken before a justice of the peace at Bellefonte on the charge of killing a deer out of season. The accused pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $137.50. Wilbur Gloss was convicted at the same time for killing a blue herron and fined ten dollars.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS MISERY.

There are hundreds of thousands of women in America suffering from Pelvic Diseases, endangering their lives by neglecting treatment. If they will write to me I will give them the benefit of my extensive experience in treating this class of ailments. —S. B. Hartman, M. D.

IN view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months, without charge.

Miss Mary Mayger, 206 Delhi street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Before taking your medicine I was completely run down.

Headache and Backache.

"My back and head ached all the time and I was so nervous that it was impossible for me to attempt any work.

"After using two bottles of Peruna there was a wonderful change and I am now a well woman.

Gratitude.

"I cannot express my gratitude sufficiently and I am recommending it to all my friends."

Dr. Hartman's treatment will be conducted by correspondence.

The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores.

Complete Treatment.

The Doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to effect complete relief.

Furthermore, all correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

Entire System Affected.

Mrs. James Golloher, Norwood, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I was suffering from systemic catarrh for about two years.

"In damp weather I was unable to do my work, as my back and sides would ache, and I thought if I did not soon find a cure I could not live long.

"I saw where Peruna had cured hundreds who had suffered as I was suffering. I decided to try it.

"After taking the first bottle, I felt a big change.

Completely Cured.

"I have taken five bottles and I am completely cured.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for his kind advice to me."

Dr. Hartman's offer will hold good during the entire summer months.

Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, symptoms of her derangements, and previous treatment.

Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharpe, 208 Friendship street, Providence, R. I., writes:

"Some time ago I wrote you, asking advice in regard to my health, describing my symptoms.

"Following your advice and taking your medicine for only five weeks, I am thankful to say I am a well woman.

"I had suffered for a number of years with constipation, indigestion and female troubles of the worst form. I was unable to do my housework without help.

Satisfactory Results.

"After taking Peruna I have experienced the most satisfactory results. I am like a new woman.

"I do all my own housework for seven rooms, thanks to Peruna.

Recommends Peruna.

"I want to recommend Peruna to all who are similarly afflicted."

The principal remedy which Dr. Hartman relies upon in curing catarrhal diseases of women is Peruna.

Hundreds of women sufferers find Peruna a household remedy. Many of these women have written letters of thanks for the benefit they have obtained.

Dr. Hartman's Experience.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted to the treatment of female diseases.

He is thus brought to see a great many of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to complete their treatment by correspondence.

Those wishing to become patients by correspondence should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Herbert Chaney of Tyrone Sundayed with his parents in this place.

The 14th annual Convention of the Centre County Christian Endeavor Union was held in the Presbyterian church in this place on last Wednesday and Thursday September 5th and 8th. The convention was quite a success and there was a large attendance to all the meeting. Mr. J. Glenn the President deserves much credit for having present none but the best speakers and carrying on the convention so successfully. Excellent music was rendered by an efficient choir and the exercise of the Junior bands showed that no pains or efforts had been spared in their training.

The Centre Hall evaporating plant has changed hands and is now controlled by Messers Boozer and Miner. Easy Way to Can Fruit.

Fill the cans with raw fruit; shake the can occasionally, so as to have the can as full as possible, but do not crowd the fruit.

Make syrup, allowing one cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of water for each can.

Divide this syrup equally among the cans and if it does not fill them fill up each can with hot water. Put the syrup in while hot, after having placed the cans in hot water.

Place the covers on the cans, but do not tighten. Place the cans in some deep dish.

Fill the dish to within an inch or so of the can cover with hot water.

Cover all with some heavy cloth which will exclude the light and prevent the steam from escaping.

Allow them to remain covered until the water is perfectly cold; the cans will then be ready to lighten and put away.

After one has tasted the fruit put up in this way, they will not want to try any other way.

TO REPUBLICANS:

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.

Independents In Pittsburg and Philadelphia Declare For Republican Nominee.

EMERY CANDIDACY REPUDIATED

Citizens Party In Allegheny and Many Members of City Party In Philadelphia For Republican State Ticket.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, September 11.

Supporters of Edwin S. Stuart, the Republican nominee for governor, and his colleagues on the state ticket, have had gratifying reports from two ends of the state this week.

First, from Allegheny county came the news that the leaders of the Citizens Party, the local reform organization which succeeded in electing George W. Guthrie mayor of Pittsburg, have decided to support the entire Republican state ticket. They propose to confine their independent political operations to local affairs. In the state campaign they will vote the full Republican ticket from Stuart down, and also for all of the Republican candidates for congress.

While State Chairman Wesley R. Andrews has been getting gratifying reports from all of the Republican county chairmen in the interior counties, the state committee leaving the management of the canvass in the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia to the local organiations, he has not got better news from anywhere than he has received from both these counties.

In Philadelphia, where former Mayor Stuart is best known, a strong movement has been started in his interest among the members of the City Party. Leaders in that party have formed an organization with the view to voting for the Republican state nominees and for Republican nominees for congress.

The chairman of the movement was one of the most active men upon the stump for Berry and the fusion ticket last fall. He was counted upon by the Emery managers to accompany their candidate for governor on his tour of the state. Lincolnite Campaign Chairman Gable was chagrined a few days ago when he learned that this gifted spellbinder is going to speak for Edwin S. Stuart this fall. His name is George W. Sturmer. He is styled "the locomotive engineer orator," and he is very widely known throughout Pennsylvania.

Scheming Leaders Repudiated.

In a public statement, explaining his position to the City Party voters of Philadelphia, Mr. Sturmer, among other things, said:

"The City Party voters are going to confine their attention to local affairs this fall, that is, those of them who are Republicans. They believe that the mixing of state and nation politics in this a semi-national election, is fraught with grave dangers to the cause of civic regeneration, and if carried further, means the total annihilation of the reform forces next February.

"The ticket nominated by the Democratic party and endorsed by the Lincoln party, which was led by many men high in the councils of the City Party, is not satisfactory to a large proportion of the City Party voters. The election of Mr. Emery, who, while an honest man, would carry into office three Democrats, which, with the present state treasurer, would give the Democrats the prependerance of power in the executive offices at Harrisburg. Suppose Mr. Emery, if elected, should die. The entire state administration of this rock-ribbed Republican state would be in the hands of the Democratic party.

"The present Republican ticket is beyond reproach. Against the character or integrity of any one of them no man can say a word. The head of the ticket is a native and resident of this city, he has been honored by our citizens with the highest office within their gift, and he performed the duties of that high office with all credit to himself and to the full satisfaction of the people. It is not to be supposed that if elected to the office of governor he will fall the people or put a stain on the proud record he now holds."

Fortune for one who Cures Carnegie Child.

There was received in Pittsburg Saturday by an old partner of Andrew Carnegie a letter from Mrs. Carnegie, which throws much light on the illness of little Margaret Carnegie, who was reported as being seriously ill with hip disease.

Both the steel king and his wife are very badly worried over the affliction which their only daughter and heiress is undergoing.

It appears that about a year since little Margaret Carnegie fell and wrenched her ankle, and perhaps all the limb. The injury refused to yield to treatment, and soon the most eminent physicians in Europe decided that tuberculosis had taken the limb. This was fought off, and now gout in its most acute form is threatened.

Mr. Carnegie has offered to make the man who cures his child independent for life.

State Topics.

The Pottsville Evening Chronicle very appropriately heads it Monday editorial column with a reflective article on "Home, Sweet Home."

Connelsville has taken the first step toward a garpage furnace by sending a committee to inspect the plant at Johnstown. Like a great many other cities, it sees the necessity for such action.

Letter carriers have been considering their interests in state convention at Pittson. This is, of necessity, a small gathering, as it would be impossible for any town to spare very many of its carriers at a time.

The Fayette county court has adopted the rule of sentencing criminals immediately on conviction, except in cases where there is an appeal or motion for a new trial. The rule has some advantages to the judge and also to the criminal.

Christian Yaple, the oldest man in Erie county, was laid away this week after a life of nearly 98 years. He was one of a large family, had been twice married and was the father of four children, but survived them all. He had been a good man and his end was peace. His memory is revered.

Chester is entertaing the convention of the leagues of cities of the third class this week and is giving them a royal welcome. McKeesport is extending an invitation to the league for the 1907 meeting and is sending its mayor along with the delegates to give the invitation greater force.

The council of the borough of New Haven Fayette county, is determined to give the citizens of that town the best service that is to be had in the way of light. There is spirited competition between corporations who desire to furnish gas, gasoline and electric light. It is certain that the town will be profited by the action.

In keeping with the sentiment that is now so widely prevalent, many historic spots are being marked for the benefit of future generations in their study of history. Last Saturday application was made in the Allegheny county court for a charter for the "Monument Association of the Battle of the Monongahela," which expects to mark the spot near Braddock and Swissdale where "Braddock's defeat" occurred and where George Washington's military career began.

The Connelsville Courier objects to holidays that are not universally observed on account of the inconvenience of those who do not observe them, and concludes by saying "Labor Day, Washington's Birthday and Lincoln's birthday should be stricken from the calendar of legal holidayes, and Memorial Day should be changed to Sunday. If the workingmen, the mercantile interests or others, want additional holidays they can bedepended upon to make them for themselves without the aid of cast-iron legislation on the subject." There are a good many people who will not agree with the Courier.

Death of John Haworth.

John Haworth, a well known citizen of Philipsburg, died Thursday night at 11 o'clock. His death was due to kidney trouble with which he had been ailing for several years.

The deceased was born at Goodshaw Hill, near Accrington, in the county of Lancashire, England, on October 18, 1839. A little over 52 years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Lord, with whom he lived happily ever since. He came to this country on August 20, 1862, his wife and children coming in November of the same year. They first settled at Powelton, but soon came to Philipsburg, where the family have since resided. Mr. Haworth had for over 40 years been a devoted member of the Baptist church. He was also a member of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias.

Besides his wife, the decessed is survived by seven sons and daughters, viz: Mrs. T. J. Eboch, George, James, Mary, and Mina, of Philipsburg; Mrs. Charles Sweeney, of Portageville, N. Y.; and Laura, also of Philipsburg.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Higby, officiating.

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces" How often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the uttermost the nerve racked condition of the body, which makes lie a daily martyrdon.

If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day of the vitality Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

Hot Summer; Cold Winter.

All the goose-bone and tree-mark prophets seem to be agreed that the unusual heat of this summer will be followed by a regular old-fashioned "hard" winter.

In this the "prophets" are supported by the records of the United States Weather Bureau, which show that the general average of temperature, year after year, runs about the same, mild or severe seasons of heat being followed by similar conditions of cold.

The only apparent possibility of this theory's not applying to the coming winter is that the hot summer may be in compensation for the mildness of last winter, and that therefore the next winter will be free to make its own record, regardloss of that which preceeded it, leaving to the succeeding summer the task of making up the deficit either of the heat or cold as the case may be.

There are numorous "signs" however, of a cold winter ahead. From our neighboring southern states, for instance, comes word that there are bushels of berries on the holly bushes. This is said to be ature's way of providing food for the birds, and a big crop of holly berries means a long and severe winter. This prediction is supported by the statement from the west that the corn husks are much thicker this year than they have been for a long time, while news comes from the forest regions of Pennsylvania and West Virginia that there will be an enormous yield of acorns, beechnuts, chestnuts, and other fruits of the forests upon which birds and beasts depend for food during the winter.

Still another sign of a long and cruel winter is found in the activity of the barn mice. These little animals have already begun the work of building their nests and observers agree that they are making them this year unusually cozy and warm. Last year they seemed to give little attention to the building of their winter homes, but this year they are not only beginning to build them unusually early, but are giving remarkable attention and care to their construction.

Perhaps, therefore, it won't be very long until we are referring to the coal man in terms scarcely less violent than were hurled from all directions upon the heads of the protesting dealers in ice.

Shower of Eggs as Train Jumps Tracks.

A carload of eggs were scrambled in a wreck on the Montrose division of the Lackawanna railroad Thursday, in which the locomotive was ditched, several cars derailed and the crew and many passengers severely shaken up. A farmer, who had built a temporary crossing on the track, was responsible for the accident.

It appears that this farmer, residing just below the Tiffany station, had constructed a temporary roadway over the track for the purpose of hauling hay across. He used a few loose, heavy planks and in his hurry to get away, forgot to remove one of them.

Engineer J. W. Spence was speeding the train along at the rate of forty miles an hour, so as to make connections with the main line at Alford. When rounding a curve he saw the obstruction and applied the air, but it was of no use. The locomotive struck the plank and was ditched, together with the first car, in which were the eggs. Thousands of these were broken

While the wreck was a serious one to the company, it proved to be a godsend to the farmers thereabouts, who hauled the passengers to their various destinations at the rate of $1 a head.

—The Walter L. Main circus and Col. Cummin's Wild West bill car is in Bellefonte today billing the town and surrounding country for the show which appears here Friday September 21st.

At Petrikin Hall Thursday Night.

The Washington National Monument is an imposing shaft of white marble rising from an elevation on the noll near the Potomac. It is seen towering against the sky long before one reaches Washington; and in the city its tremendous height confronts one at every turn and has placed in a thousand vistas. From the avenues and parks, from the Capital, the White House, the hills of the Soldiers Home, the heights of Arlington, and from far down the potomac on the way to Mt. Vernon, go where you will, an ever prominent feature of the landscape is the Monument. Seen at different times of the day it has a new character for each new hour; its appearance changes with the varying lights, and with alternations of clear sky and cloud. In stormy weather it suggests a mountain peak standing immovable with the mists driving by.—Petrikin Hall, Thursday evening, admission 25 cents.

FATE OF THE JUNE BUGS.

Awful Punishment That Was Decreed by an Ancient Council.

"Berne has an official collector of June bugs," writes a correspondent of the Chicago News from Switzerland. "This personage is appointed by the city council when the triennial pest of June bugs occurs, and he is empowered to destroy all the insects that may be brought to him. Each owner of a small estate is obliged to gather five pounds of bugs, and those who happen to be the proprietors of larger pieces of property must collect proportionately more. For each pound that is missing from this obligatory amount a fine of 10 cents is imposed, but if more than the required quota is forthcoming a premium of 2 cents a pound is paid. This remuneration is offered also to others besides the property owners. A landholder who entirely neglects to gather any bugs at all is subject to a fine of from $5 to $10. School children receive permission to enter large estates, where they shake the trees and poke long sticks about in their endeavors to dislodge as many bugs as possible.

"In times of old, the ancient chroniclers tell us, it was the custom to attempt to rid the country of these unwelcome visitors by citing them into court and by banishing them from the country, but the wily insects failed to obey the summons and continued to fly about in the face of the law, laying eggs promiscuously and contrary to edict. In a certain village it was determined to make a terrible and lasting example of all the insects found within its borders. With considerable expenditure of time and patience quantities of bugs were collected and placed in a huge sack. Deliberation was held as to the fate of these hard backed prisoners. Ordinary death was considered too light a punishment for such offenders. A hideous end must be theirs.

"A procession of the inhabitants of the village, advisers and councilors, wise men and children, wended its way slowly toward the place of execution, the summit of a high peak. This was laboriously climbed, an executioner with the bag of buzzing bugs in the lead. With due regard for the responsibility and justness of their act, the wise men approached the edge of the precipice. The bugs were to be ignominiously dashed to pieces on the rocks, thousands of feet below. The executioner hung over the crag, the bag, top downward, was opened and the bugs shaken out to their death. But instead of falling like so many lumps of lead, as they ought to have done on such an occasion, the bugs, to the amazement of all, spread their wings and flew away."

Vegetable Gluttons.

Sundews, common in English marshes, are sufficiently knowing to distinguish between various substances presented to them. Offer them a nice scrap of tender beef, and in a couple of hours they will have concealed it from sight. Try them with a piece of chalk or a tiny pebble, and they remain stolidly immovable. Wet the chalk and offer it again, and the plant apparently mistakes it for meat, the bristles gradually closing round it; then, discovering the deception, they gradually relax and return the chalk without thanks. These vegetable gluttons will absorb morsels of poached eggs and mutton chops, but cheese turns the leaves quite black and finally kills them.

Saluting the Flag.

Army regulations prescribe in detail what honors shall be paid to the flag, and these regulations are implicitly and gladly observed. No matter how little one may relish the duty of showing the respect due to some military superior, he is always ready and glad to do honor to his flag. Whenever any one in the military service of the United States passes near the unfurled colors or whenever the flag passes before him, he is required to remove his cap in salute, and if sitting he is required to rise and stand at "attention" until the flag has passed.—St. Nicholas.

DAN PATCH PACES IN 1.55

Champion Lowers World's Record For One Mile Against Time.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—Dan Patch demonstrated his right to the title of "King of Pacers" at the state fair grounds by breaking the world's record held by him. The mile was paced in 1.55 flat, clipping a quarter second off the record established at Lexington, Ky., last season.

The record was smashed in the first quarter. After scoring once, Hersey brought the horse up fast to the wire, and the running pacemaker had a hard time to keep ahead of Dan Patch to the first quarter pole, which was reached in .28¼. The second quarter was made in .28¾. At the half a third runner picked up the pacer and accompanied him to the stretch, the third quarter being paced in .29¼ and the last in .28¾.

HORNED BOSTON'S SPEECHES

Janitor Upsets Meeting of Hahnemannian Physicians At Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8.—Hahnemannian Congress of Physicians now in session here was upset by the act of the hotel janitor who burned up a number of the carefully prepared addresses. The doctors left the speeches on a parlor table after a long session to take them up later in the day. In the meantime they took a recess and left the room. When they came back the table was cleared clean. The janitor said he thought the papers were no good, and put them into the furnace.

The congress decided not to change the by-laws, even though the board of censors recommended a revision. It was planned to allow rural physicians to file applications for membership without the usual endorsement. A heated debate followed and the recommendation was lost.

Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 8.—At the annual meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania Chautauqua, Mt. No definite action was taken, but the matter was only laid over awaiting further developments on the part of the government. Rev. Dr. H. A. Gersen, chancellor of the Chautauqua, after the meeting said if the government selects the place for a permanent camp the Chautauqua association will offer for sale cottages for officers' homes and the auditorium for a dance floor, if so wanted. The feeling against the militiamen is bitter.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial digesters for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 800 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organ—and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disorders be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experience that these inside nerves were the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to cure indigestion, heart burn, belching, insomnia, backache, heart weakness, and Bright's disease and all other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate sicknesses and are not to be treated as such. They are merely symptoms of inside nerve weakness, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the sickness disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed for these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart troubles quicker even than those medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid) can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

THE SHERIFF IS SURROUNDED

Punxsutawney, Pa., Sept. 3.—Two members of the state constabulary dead, one dying and two others wounded is the result of a riot with Italians at Florence, seven miles from here. One of the Italians is dead, another is slightly wounded and two are under arrest, while the house in which the rioters barricaded themselves is a wreck from dynamite used by the troopers to dislodge the rioters.

The dead are: Private John Henry, of Philadelphia; Private Francis Zehringer, of Conshohocken; unidentified Italian.

Fatally injured: Private Homer C. Chambers, of Rochester, Pa.

The others wounded are: Private William A. Mullen, of Harrisburg, shot through the foot; First Seargeant Joseph Logan, of Dubois, shot through the leg; George Felitzsky, aged 12 years, son of Steve Felitzsky, a miner, shot in the leg.

The trouble began when Sergeant Logan went to Florence to search for Leopold Scarlat, who is charged with shooting his brother-in-law, Bruno Trazzone, on Friday night. Logan was in Dr. Bodenhorn's office, when Salvatore Waltzoch, who is said to be one of the most desperate members of the Black Hand, started to fight with a countryman in front of the house where Waltzoch boards. When Logan placed Waltzoch under arrest the latter invited him into the boarding house to prove his good character. Logan had scarcely passed the door when one of the Italians in the house made a lunge at him with a stiletto, the weapon passing between his arm and body. Logan retreated, but before he got 15 feet from the building an Italian opened fire on him with a magazine shotgun. Logan returned the fire, and the two men emptied their weapons at each other. Logan got one buckshot wound in the foot, and the desperado was seen to fall back into the house, perhaps fatally wounded. Logan, by inquiring of the residents, learned that he had a Black Hand man to deal with. He then telephoned to the barracks at this place, and a detachment of five privates was detailed by Lieutenant Egle to go to his assistance. When the detachment arrived Private John Henry immediately started for the house, but when about 20 feet from it was shot down. Chambers and Mullen, in attempting the rescue of their companion, were both shot down before they reached him. A telephone call was then sent for in for the entire force and 15 additional troopers were hurried to the scene. When the second detachment arrived, and while 12 of the constabulary kept firing into the windows and front doors, six policemen made a rush for the side door, which they battered in. Three of the officers, Zehringer, Gross and Cummings, dashed up the stairs, but were confronted by three of the desperadoes, who opened fire. Zehringer fell at the first volley, but the two other men escaped.

The house was then dynamited and set afire by the troopers, who arrested two Italians in the house before the flames gained headway. In the house was also found a dead Italian, with a bullet through his head. The house was destroyed, and with it a smaller one standing close by. While but two arrests have been made, a search is being made for others known to have escaped when dynamiting of the house was begun.

TOOTHPICKS.

A Visit to London and a Little Lesson In Etiquette.

"I ran over for a short visit to London," said a globe trotter. "On the boat was a pretty widow from Altona who disgusted and amused all hands one day by saying:

"'I am surprised that a fast and expensive boat like this should fail to supply us with toothpicks.'

"She thought toothpicks indispensable, like napkins or forks. For thinking so we set her down as a hecker. But wait.

"I dined during my visit in London at Prince's, in Piccadilly, and at the Savoy, in the room that overlooks the embankment and the river, and at the Carlton, where I paid a dollar for a plate of soup, and at all these restaurants, which are admittedly the finest and the smartest and the most fashionable in the world. At all of them there were toothpicks on the table, each toothpick done up in a sterilized envelope.

"This taught me a lesson. It taught me that it is narrow and provincial to despise people for their disregard of certain small rules of etiquette. The things we despise them for, which may be glaring errors in Seattle or New York, may be again, as like as not, the correct thing in Paris and London."—New York Press.

LANGUAGE EVOLUTION.

Use of the Suffix "Less" In Verbs, Nouns and Adjectives.

Many will remember that some years ago there went on a violent controversy about the word tireless. The discovery had been made that "less" was a suffix which could properly be appended only to nouns; hence the form must be discarded, and we must all take pains to say untiring. The duty of so doing was preached from scores of professional and newspaper pulpits. No one seemed to think or care for the various other adjectives similarly formed and therefore liable to the similar censure which they never received. Hostility was directed against it alone. The actual flaw which vitiated the arguments against tireless its censors never knew or took into consideration. This was that the fancied rule covering the creation of such words had practically long ceased to be operative whenever a new formation struck the sense of the users of language as being desirable.

Unquestionably in our earliest speech the suffix "less" when employed to form adjectives was joined only with nouns. But the general sloughing off of nominal and verbal endings which went on in later centuries reduced a great proportion of substantives and verbs in the speech to precisely the same form. In consequence the sense of any fundamental distinction between the two broke down in many ways—in one way in particular. There is nothing easier in our speech than to convert a verb into a noun or a noun into a verb. It is a process which has taken place constantly in the past and is liable to take place at any time in the future, either at the will or the whim of the writer or speaker.—Thomas R. Lounsbury in Harper's.

A Horse Story.

Our Dumb Animals tells a remarkable story about the intelligence of a mare who saved her colt from death by stopping a train on a railroad in Texas. The colt had fallen with its legs through a railroad bridge, and the mother started down the track to meet the coming train. As the train came up she stood on the track whinnying. The train stopped, and then the mare trotted ahead of it as it moved slowly to the bridge. Here the colt was discovered and extricated from its perilous position. The story was vouched for by the engineer, railroad men and passengers in the train.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

CARNEGIE'S CHILD INCURABLE

Little Daughter Suffering From Case of Acute Gout.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—Word was received in Pittsburg which verifies the story sent out from London that little Margaret Carnegie, daughter of Andrew Carnegie, is suffering from an incurable disease. A letter was received from Mrs. Carnegie by a former partner of Andrew Carnegie, and she speaks tearfully of the illness of her daughter, who seems not to have gotten on as well as had been hoped. The Pittsburg man has been home but a few weeks from a long stay with Mr Carnegie at Skibo, and while there he helped nurse the crippled child.

It appears that more than a year ago Mr. Carnegie's daughter hurt her ankle, and it would not yield to treatment, but for a time tuberculosis of the leg threatened, and the now painful illness has been pronounced by the eminent physicians to be acute gout.

Mr. Carnegie is said to have promised immense wealth to a physician who cures his child.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

"DO IT TO-DAY!"

"And to think that ten months ago I looked like this! I owe it to German Syrup."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. HARD FIGHTING IN CUBA

Rebels Said to Have Lost 200 Killed in Fierce Battle.

PINAR DEL RIO IS NOW CUT OFF

Government Troops and Reinforcements On Train Had Hard Fight Before They United—Havana Fears Attack of Insurgents.

Havana, Sept. 10.—Government, military and railroad officials and the newspaper corerspondents were thrown into a state of excitement by men who had arrived here from Paso Real with stories that the armored train which left Havana Friday had met with various obstacles beyond Herradura, had been thrown from the tracks and its 300 men, machine guns, horses and equipment captured. As these tales were confirmed by the western railroad's first telegraphic advices from Paso Real, they were believed to be true until authentic reports of actual occurrences were wired by those who had returned to Paso Real from the scene.

The real facts of the case are that Colonel Avalos, who was believed to be surrounded in Pinar del Rio City, and the armored train made a junction east of Consolacion del Sur, and the government forces to that extent are improved. The news of this fact has caused much relief in official circles.

The train proceeded from Paso Real to two and a third miles east of Consolacion del Sur, at which point the rails had been removed, and replaced a locomotive and three cars which had been thrown from the track. The insurgents attacked, but were driven off by two machine guns handled by the American, Captain Webster.

Meanwhile a large portion of Colonel Avalos' force had come eastward from Pinar del Rio for the purpose of making a junction with the machine gun corps. At Consolacion del Sur their advance was disputed by a large band of insurgents and a lively fight ensued. The insurgents were driven off and several of them were killed or wounded. Avalos and his men continued their journey eastward and made a junction, first with the cavalry force of Captain Ravenna, which is scouting ahead, and finally with the disabled troop train. The train has not been molested since the junction was effected, but the bridge over the Santa Clara river eastward from the train was blown up, together with two smaller ones, preventing the use of the road beyond Herradura.

As the bridges westward near Puerta Golpe also have been destroyed no trains can operate from Pinar del Rio City in either direction. Both the railroad and the telegraph line continue in use to Paso Real.

Reports received by the government say that 200 insurgents were killed in the encounter near Consolacion del Sur, but these figures are not considered to be authentic.

A fight is reported to have taken place at Guanajay, in anta Clara province. There were fierce machete charges and the rebels retired. Several of them were wounded and five were captured.

There is some alarm in Havana on account of the nearness to the city of several hundred insurgents belonging to the forces of Asbet, Lyonais and Castillo, some of whom are often seen in the hills at Jesus del Monte in the southern extremity of the city. Intimations received from these bands are to the effect that they are merely awaiting the outcome of the peace negotiations, practically all the insurgents in the provinces of Havana and aSnta Clara having ceased operations for the present in accordance with the tentative agreement with the peace commissioners.

The fourth week of the rebellion opens with the government's forces better equipped and improved in discipline, but enlistments are slow. President Palma's action in calling a special session of congress is meeting with some adverse criticism. Many persons believe that no good purpose will be served by a discussion of the causes of the war and of peace proposals by the congress.

Gold in Walls of Adobe Houses.

Mexico City, Sept. 10.—It has been found that the walls of adobe houses in the suburbs of Guanajuato contain gold and silver in paying quantities. Three hundred small houses were torn down to make room for the Mexican Central railroad extension into the city, and a smelting company buying the adobe found that it contained gold and silver worth more than $30,000. The adobe used in the construction of these old houses was made from slime resulting from the grinding of ores of many rich mines. Some 200,000 tons have been already smelted, the value running about $8 a ton.

Over 100 Killed; Town In Flames.

A detachment of infantry rushed up and fired a volley into the crowd, killing two persons and wounding two. It is reported that over 100 persons were killed or wounded and that the town is in flames.

British Vice Consul Attacked.

Baku, Sept. 10.—Leslie Urquhart, the British vice consul here, who was decorated by King Edward for heroism in rescuing Englishmen isolated at Ballakhna from Tartar insurgents during the massacres of 1905, and who is one of the most prominent men in the oil region, was the victim of a serious attack in the centre of the city, and miraculously escaped death. Though he was fired at eight times at short range, his only injuries were six slight flesh wounds. The motive for the crime has not been established, but it is believed to be a revolutionary act patterned after the attack on Germans at Warsaw preceding the attempt on the life of Governor General Skallon.

NEGRO ATTACKS TWO WOMEN

Attempted to Assault One, But Was Frightened Away.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 10.—As Mrs. Beatrice Frankish and her daughter, Miss Gussie Leitch, were driving from Hockessin to Brandywine Springs Park, a negro jumped from behind a tree in the road and threw a stone which struck Miss Leitch in the head, rendering her unconscious. The negro then dragged Mrs. Frankish from the carriage and attempted to assault her. She fought him, and he struck her in the head with a stone. The negro was frightened away before he committed the assault. Farmers and detectives are now searching for the negro. The condition of both women is serious, and the doctors say they cannot tell as yet whether their skulls have been fractured. The outrage occurred not very far from where the negro White was burned at the stake two years ago.

The latter claims while passing through the woods he came upon Ruscas and a companion. Ruscas carried a gun and had a bag well filled with game. The warden demanded that both men surrender, but they refused. Warden Rowe claims that Ruscas opened fire on him, and he returned the fire, shooting Ruscas through the heart. R. K. YOUNG ACCEPTS

Is Republican Nominee For Auditor General of Pennsylvania.

HE OBJECTED TO COL. ANDREWS

Was Notified of Nomination a Few Days Ago, and In Accepting Promises to Administer Office Without Fear or Favor If Elected.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—Ex-Representative Robert K. Young's formal letter of acceptance of the Republican nomination for auditor general was made public by Congressman M. E. Olmsted, of Harrisburg, chairman of the recent Republican state convention. Mr. Young's colleagues on the Republican state ticket were formally notified of their nomination at a meeting two months ago, at which they made brief speeches of acceptance. Mr. Young was unable to attend this meeting, and Mr. Olmsted notified him of his nomination by a letter a few days ago. Mr. Young some months ago demanded that Colonel Andrews be removed as chairman of the Republican state committee.

In accepting, Mr. Young says that if elected his election will come as free from promise or obligation as was his nomination, and that in his political conduct he never has been and never shall be subject to corporate influence or the dictation of political machines.

"If elected, it shall be my purpose," he adds, "to see that no warrant is drawn for the payment of any moneys of the public treasury without previous authority of law; and it shall be my further purpose to see that the revenue laws are rigidly, strictly and justly enforced against corporations and others coming within the jurisdiction of the office, without fear or favor."

Mr. Young says that the pledges of the Republican platform for a return of a portion of the moneys converted into the state treasury to the various counties with a view of lightening the burden of local taxation and to promote those wise enterprises intended for the common convenience and welfare, such as the building of good roads and many others which have been inaugurated by the Republican party in recent years, meet with his most hearty and enthusiastic approval.

He says also that, admitting, as every man must do, that certain abuses have in the past been cloaked under the purity of the Republican party name by morally blinded and reckless men, no member of the Republican party need at this time apologize for the faith that is in him, but on the contrary, he should rejoice and be glad that he is identified with the party that has been the champion of progress and the rights of the people in this country for the last 50 years, and that the party has been chastised and abuses have been corrected.

In conclusion, Mr. Young says that there can be no sufficient ground for any man calling himself a Republican to fail to give his party proud, hearty and loyal support at this time.

MURDER OVER BALL GAME

Man's Throat Cut During Dispute and Murderer Escapes.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 10.—Losing his temper during a dispute over a ball game, Francis Curtin, 17 years old, cut the throat of Robert S. Jardine while the latter was standing in a doorway of Hopkins' brewery, on Sheldon street, almost severing Jardine's head from his body by a stroke from a razor. Curtin made his escape immediately after he committed the deed, and the police all over the state have been notified to keep on the watch for him.

WORK BEGUN ON AIR LINE.

Indiana the Scene of First Operations on Road.

The Ramsey proposed electric air line from New York to Chicago, the route of which passes through Union county, touching at New Berlin, may not be a "pipe dream," as some papers in the state would have their readers believe. Instead the promoters pay little attention to the attack upon the route, and have gone ahead with construction, as will be shown by a dispatch from LaPorte, Indiana, to the New York World, with the statement that ground was broken last Saturday for the air line road. The dispatch under date of September 2nd, says:

"Elaborate ceremonies attended the turning of the first shovelful of earth, three miles south of LaPorte, yesterday by President Alexander C. Miller for the Electric Air Line Railway between Chicago and New York—756 miles. After the ceremonies two construction gangs with steam shovels and dredges started, one working each way.

"President Miller says the line will be in operation in four years. All surveys have been made and much of the right way has been purchased."

Those close to Mr. Ramsey, the promoter of the road, are giving little attention to the criticisms to which they have been subjected, and state that the articles emanate from quarters of corporations that are fearful of the damage they will suffer by the building of the new road. Every opposition will be thrown in the way of the electric road by other railroads, but the promoters are going right along and give the assurance that the line is a sure thing.

Lehigh's Leper Car is Given a Disguise.

Lehigh Valley car No. 68,833, known as the "leper car," is now ornamented with a fresh coat of paint and a new number, 69,065.

This is the box car in which George Rossett, the Asyrian who caused such a commotion in this country a few months ago by being stricken with the most awful of diseases—leprosy—was carted around from place to place.

Recently the car was delivered to the owning company—the Lehigh—and forwarded to Sayre for repairs. Switchmen refused to handle it and car repairers refused to do any work on it. The Sayre board of health asked that the health of the community be preserved, and Superintendent Kinney, of the Pennsylvania division of the Lehigh, promised to have the car burned. His decision was overruled by a higher officer.

Then the board was told that the car had been fumigated, and that the Lehigh had a certificate showing the fact. The board asked to see the certificate, but it has not laid eyes on that piece of paper.

In the meantime, the Lehigh had the car repainted, not with a brush, but with a paint spray, and then a man was found who restenciled the car, giving it a new number.

The shop men have ascertained the new number, and say that they will refuse to make any repairs to the car under whatever number it may be placed in the shops. The board of health is now in correspondence with State Health Commissioner Dixon, and upon his decision depends the local board's future action.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders—and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

The Kreider Family Reunion.

Possibly one of the nicest gatherings ever held in this section was that of the Kreider family re-union at the old homestead at Gatesburg last Thursday when the very large connection of friends and neighbors assembled in the grove near the well known old home mansion. A good dinner was served and plenty of it to feed as many more.

After dinner Rev. Isaac Kreider was chosen chairman. There was singing in which all joined in the chorus to the tune of the "Old Kentucky Home."

Rev. Bergstresser invoked divine blessing after which there followed the genealogy of the Kreider family by Rev. Isaac Kreider of Duncansville, Pa. He was followed by his brother, Samuel Kreider in an address brim full of reminiscences of the bye gone days. Prof. Ira Ellenberger was the next speaker and he made many good hits on the dutch.

Rev. Bergstresser made a few remarks but begged to be excused, being a stranger he preferred to listen.

Spruce Creek and Half Moon Valley were out in farce as most every family is connected with this old pioneer family; the Grays, Goheen, McWilliams, Rumbergers, Ellenbergers, Riders, Gates and hosts of others with branches in all most every part of the globe.

Every generation had a minister and a doctor in their family. There are two ministers now, Samuel, of Winber, Pa., and Isaac, of Duncansville.

The father of the old stock came to this country 170 years ago in company with William Penn and settled in Lebanon county where there are six hundred descendents. From there John Kreider moved to Gatesburg the old home of today. He came from Lebanon when a lad and located in the wilds of Centre county at an early age. He was married to Elizabeth Rumberger and this union was blessed with seven sons and three daughters. All are living but one son who fell while in defense of his country during the war of the rebellion at Campbell Station, Tenn. He was a member of Co. E. 45th P. V. I. Rev. Samuel Kreider was also a member of the same company. Jacob lives and farms the old homestead. John and Rudolph live nearby with their sister, Mrs. J. G. Strange. Rev. Samuel lives at Winber and Rev. Isaac at Duncansville.

It was a day long to be remembered by the Kreiders and their very large connection. The afternoon was spent in hand shaking and listening to the old time stories when they hunted for the rabbit and the deer.

The music rendered by the Howard band was excellent, and also that furnished by the choir.
